Interactive Designer & Developer

Hired as a Front-end Developer for the Sports Department. My role evolved to include full site designs, large Flash projects, A/V editing and encoding, account management, and project management. In 2008 I was asked to switch my focus entirely to design and became a Graphic Artist for all departments.

- Spearheaded the transition to table-less layouts and semantic markup
- Mentored new Sports Department hires in design, Flash, and front-end development
- Managed high end accounts and projects including the Cincinnati Bengals and United Center
- Designed over 150 websites for a variety of high end corporate, sports and entertainment, e-commerce, schools, government, and association clients
- Involved in mobile website/app design and created standards for many of the mobile pages and modules
